Chess Scotland Grading List 2021-2022

August 2021: There were only two players recorded any results in the CS Standardplay system in the past year, both in events outside Scotland. The shutdown in over the board (OTB) activity resulted in the decision to try and keep the grading system ticking over by processing the results of online events through the Allegro system.

There were 675 players recorded at least one result from the online data which was submitted for allegro processing. The time control for games to be eligible for the allegro list is at least 15 minutes per player, however an increment control is also acceptable by determining how much time is available at the 60th move so for example 10 minutes plus 5 seconds increment is fine. No online data is or will be processed for the standardplay list even if the online time-control would normally be acceptable i.e. one hour or more per player. Longer time control online games can be processed for the allegro list only.

Thanks: Thanks to all those who compiled result data this season including arbiter Andy Howie who ran all online games through a pgn fair-play check. Thanks to event organisers Harry Marron and David Clayton for keeping competitive play alive and to the CS programming team of Andrew McHarg and Gordon Rattray plus ECF programmer Malcolm Peacock whose calendar entry display was used in many events this season.

Restart: While it seems unlikely that there will be any immediate return to a pre-covid normal complement of league, club and weekend tournaments there is some OTB play now starting in the UK. It may be that one day rapid events and rapidplay leagues are initially a more popular format than the traditional three day weekender and evening league play. The grading system is ready to restart when OTB takes place but there may be some calculation adjustments required to try and give a more accurate rating figure for those players who have improved but not had that reflected in their rating level.

For most adult players the enforced inactivity in standardplay will not result in a significant decrease in playing strength. The existing pre-covid grading rules do not adjust an inactive adult grade until a full 10 years have elapsed. However the situation is not the same for junior players. Just by being a year older most juniors will on average have improved by the level of the junior addition applicable to their age group. One benefit of the grading of online data through the allegro system is that increased playing strength is reflected in an increased allegro rating. We may use that information to identify which players require an adjustment to their standard-play grade.

Grading System and Website upgrade: Programmer Andrew McHarg has begun work on an overhaul of the grading system and website. Summary by Andrew: "The aim is a web-based grading system, which is managed by Area Graders and the Chief Grader, and used by players (with and without member privileges) by logging in (or, in the case of some simple lookups, without requiring a log-in). We will build a system that's compatible with the Wordpress framework, so that we can develop a new website going forward that's easy to migrate from old to new, whilst still keeping it compatible with the new grading system and allowing for the content management features that we've become used to with Wordpress."

The grading and website upgrade is being financially supported by the Paisley firm of Ecosse Doors and private sponsorship.
